LETTER FROM THE CEO

Jeremy Booth | CEO & President of Baseball Operations
New Balance Future Stars Series

Welcome to Minnesota and the 2026 New Balance Future Stars Series Main Event.

FOR ME, THIS WEEKEND IS PERSONAL.

Long before Future Stars Series existed, Minnesota was part of my own baseball journey. I began my professional career in the Minnesota Twins organization, played here in St. Paul, and later began building my career as a PROFESSIONAL scout here. I learned lessons in these ballparks, on these fields and around the people of this baseball community that have stayed with me throughout my career.

So bringing the Main Event to Target Field and CHS Field feels like coming full circle.

And there may be no better place for what this event represents.

The players here have earned the opportunity to compete on this stage. Selection to the Main Event means our staff believes in what a player is today — but even more importantly, what he has the ability to become.

THAT DISTINCTION MATTERS.

Development isn't about being the biggest, strongest or most polished player at 16 or 17 years old. It's about projection. It's about athleticism, instincts, ability, work ethic and character. It's about identifying players who still have somewhere to go and then giving them the environment, information and competition necessary to get there.

THAT'S WHAT THE MAIN EVENT IS ABOUT.

Every pitch, every at-bat and every inning gives us another opportunity to learn about these players. They're competing against some of the best talent in the country, but they're also learning what it means to perform when expectations are high and people are watching.

Ten seasons into Future Stars Series, that standard hasn't changed. We've watched players come through this program and continue on to college baseball, professional baseball and the Major Leagues. Every one of them once stood where the players participating this weekend stand now — with an opportunity in front of them and a lot of baseball still to be written.

NOW IT'S THIS GROUP'S TURN.

For me, having that next chapter begin here in Minnesota makes this Main Event especially meaningful.

Enjoy the weekend. Enjoy these two incredible ballparks. Ask questions. Compete. Learn. Take in the experience.

And most importantly, MAKE YOUR NAME.

MEET THE BOSS

JEREMY BOOTH

CEO & PRESIDENT OF BASEBALL OPERATIONS,
FUTURE STARS SERIES

Jeremy Booth operates at the intersection of strategy, development, and culture.

Raised in a family deeply connected to sports and law, his father, Aaron Booth, was a prominent agent representing elite MLB talent which meant Booth grew up immersed in the game's culture from a young age. This upbringing instilled a blend of competitive drive, analytical thinking, and respect for the game's traditions. Coupled with a high intellectual acumen, Booth has leveraged these roots into a rare combination of instinctual evaluation, strategic foresight, and leadership gravitas.

Labeled by many as an exceptional talent evaluator and strategist, Booth is central to Future Stars Series operations, highly connected with MLB executives and scouts and known for integrating analytics with traditional scouting insight into all aspects of player development.

A fearless visionary, Booth has become synonymous with authority, insight, and influence in player development and draft operations. Having spent years at the professional level as both as a player and scout, he is a trusted advisor to numerous MLB executives and is key in recognizing emerging scouting talent.

Under his leadership, the New Balance Future Stars Series has become a unifying presence in the amateur baseball landscape, with flagship events hosted by the Red Sox, Mets, Rangers, and Dodgers. In 2024, FSS alumni made up just under 16% of MLB Draft selections and 33% of participants at the MLB Draft Combine. The program has helped secure signing bonuses totaling in the hundreds of millions across the draft and international signings and in 2025, 66 players were drafted into MLB and thousands have participated in the various regional combines and tournaments both domestically and internationally.

In addition to his FSS responsibilities, Booth also serves as a baseball analyst for KHOU, the CBS affiliate in Houston, and a Front Office Insider for ESPN 97.5, providing in-depth, real-world perspective shaped by decades in scouting, player development, and executive leadership. He is also the author of the No. 1 Amazon bestseller, "Inside the Mind of a Scout", a must-read that demystifies how professional scouts evaluate talent and project future success.

WE GOT NOW

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ABOUT THE NEW BALANCE FUTURE STARS SERIES

Future Stars Series (FSS) has become one of the most impactful forces in amateur baseball, both as a player development platform and as a leading figure in MLB Draft operations. We are committed to developing the stars of tomorrow—on and off the field—by providing unmatched opportunities, elite exposure, and real pathways to the next level.

EXPERIENCE MATTERS ★ ★ ★

FSS is built and run by actual baseball evaluators (ex-scouts, front office execs, player development staff), not just event promoters. MLB organizations trust our product. Unlike showcase only circuits, FSS emphasizes growth, pro-style instruction, and player makeup—aligning with how MLB evaluates.

EMBRACING TECHNOLOGY ★ ★ ★

FSS scouting reports and event results are leaned on heavily by MLB clubs. With Synergy, TrackMan, Smart Park, and other advanced tools, the Future Stars Series feeds data directly into MLB organizations in the same format teams use internally. This has amplified its importance for draft prep and cross-checking.

EARNING PLAYERS TRUST THROUGH RESULTS ★ ★ ★

Top prospects prefer FSS because our emphasis on THEIR growth is the only thing that matters. FSS mirrors pro ball, gives players a chance to be directly evaluated by MLB decision-makers, and offers a development path, not just exposure. Being selected for an FSS signature event = "I'm a real prospect." It's a badge of credibility that resonates with both peers and pro evaluators.

EXPANDING INTERNATIONAL OPERATIONS ★ ★ ★

FSS has bridged the international and U.S. amateur scouting worlds, giving MLB clubs a more unified view of talent. Its shift from International Week to the Main Event helped bring the global player pool under the same spotlight as domestic players. Combines in Puerto Rico, Dominican Republic, Colombia, Aruba, Canada, Bahamas, Panama, and Japan have identified hundreds of potential future MLB players.

DEVELOPING THE STARS OF TOMORROW

TENTH SEASON

FSS STAFF

The Program 15 Sports and New Balance Future Stars Series staff brings decades of experience at the collegiate and professional levels of organized baseball. Our evaluators, coaches and instructors have played, coached and scouted at the highest levels and are directly involved in player development from high school to college and on to the Major Leagues.

All evaluations are performed to improve the player's self-awareness and abilities. While college scholarships or a professional career can't be guaranteed, our system has helped many players across the country accomplish these feats.

Additionally, the organization has developed a strong network across all levels that, if applicable, can be accessed to help local players further their dreams in the game of baseball.

ANTHONY ARANGO

A SCOUT ★ A MENTOR ★ A FRIEND

Late last year, the New Balance Future Stars Series lost a very special member of our family as longtime baseball scout and professional Anthony Arango passed away.

Anthony left a lasting legacy in this sport we all love and impacted everyone who he came across, as did his dad.

The game and world is a little less bright.

REST IN PEACE, TONY.
